

UK managing director appointment

IRESS today announced the appointment of Phil Quin-Conroy as managing director of IRESS' United Kingdom business.

IRESS chief executive, Andrew Walsh, said: "Phil has more than 25 years' experience in financial services and technology in Australia and the UK.

"Phil joined IRESS two years ago and has successfully established and lead the expansion of our lending business in Australia.

"In the past two years I have been impressed by Phil, how he forms and builds teams and his focus on clients and business growth."

Mr Quin-Conroy said: "IRESS holds a strong position in the United Kingdom and I'm looking forward to working with the team to build on our achievements by delivering outstanding outcomes for our clients and continued strong growth for IRESS."

Before he joined IRESS to spearhead lending in Australia, Mr Quin-Conroy held a number of senior financial services and technology leadership roles.

Mr Quin-Conroy was Head of Business Consulting for MLC in the United Kingdom and Head of Insurance & Licensee Services for National Australia Bank. In addition he was CEO of one of Australia's largest mortgage aggregation groups, PLAN Australia, and Head of Broker Services for National Australia Bank's Advantagedge, where he was responsible for the operations of the mortgage aggregation businesses, including the modernisation of its technology platform.

Mr Quin-Conroy will start in the role in the UK on 17 June.
