Iress partners with Cosaic to bring ChartIQ to its market data platform

Iress today announces that it has integrated Cosaic's ChartIQ into its trading and market data software, Iress Pro. ChartIQ brings next generation charting functionality to Iress clients.

The availability of ChartIQ in Iress Pro will also build in pre and post trade analytics tools, helping users visualise the complete lifecycle of the trade. The integration means Iress Pro users can analyse data faster, more accurately and in a more flexible way.

With ChartIQ, users can chart yield curves for rate interpolation, create and chart user-defined instruments for scenario simulations while supporting market-wide performance comparisons and decision support. The integration also brings a redesigned user interface and navigation that improves efficiency and usability.

Iress head of trading and market data, Eugene O'Herlihy said: "We are pleased to partner with Cosaic on this integration, which builds on our legacy of delivering innovative market data and trading solutions. The ChartIQ integration provides users with an even broader range of charting options and functionality to comprehensively analyse and model data available within Iress Pro."

Cosaic's CEO, Dan Schleifer said: "We're thrilled to be partnering with Iress. They are a future-forward company that understands the value of bringing best-in-breed charting technology and UX to their 12,000 users. We look forward to seeing how our charts improve the day-to-day workflow of their users."
