Data Retention	Unless there is a specific data retention period built into the product/ service, the Customer, as Controller, will be responsible for determining data retention periods applicable to the data it stores within the product/ service.
	Where the product/ service is hosted by IRESS and the customer deletes data, this data will be retained in back-up for a period of up to 6 months, following which it will be deleted. (We are working towards reducing this period to 35 days, and will update this record of processing when this takes effect).
